

HOOVER'S PLEA

Time it Will be Made in Court Not Yet Known.

Scott Furnished Bail in the Sum of $10,000 Thursday Night.

Statute Upon Which the Latter's Indictment is Based Quoted Below--Scott Says He is Neither Surprised Nor Disappointed Over Arrest.

Harry J. Hoover has not yet gone to Columbus to plead to the indictments found by the federal grand jury and at this time it can not be stated just when he will go. While he has been confined to his bed for more than a month his physical condition is said to be improving and it is stated upon good authority that he will go to Columbus within a few days, possibly sooner.

Harry P. Scott, who has been indicted jointly in the Newark bank case with Harry Hoover, is ready for trial and has been released on a $10,000 bond. His case will come up in the United States court soon, the exact date not being known at this time.

Harry P. Scott the life long friend of Harry J. Hoover, the accused Newark bank cashier, was arrested at 3:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon on a capias from the United States Court, Southern Ohio District, now in session at Columbus with Judge A. C. Thompson presiding, as exclusively told in Thursday's Advocate.

Deputy United States Marshal Al. Bauer came to Newark Thursday afternoon, and Scott was notified that he was here, and immediately went to the office of his attorney, Charles Miller, where the capias was served upon him.

Attorney C. W. Miller telephoned for Scott's mother, Mrs. Alta Scott, his brother Walter Scott and his sister Miss Clara Scott who were prepared to go on his bond, which was prepared in Columbus for $10,000, ready for the signature of the sureties.

Attorney Charles L. Flory, who was in Columbus, as a witness in the Miller-Struble case, before the United States Court, met the Scott party, and attended to the technical routine, accompanying the signing of the recognizance. Attorney Miller did not go to Columbus, but has been retained by Scott.

The serving of the warrant was not accompanied by any dramatic or sensational incidents, and any one in the office who did not know what was going on would never have dreamt for a moment that such a momentous incident in the life of one of those present was happening. At the time there were only six men present, H. P. Scott, Deputy Marshal Bauer, Attorney C. W. Miller, Walter Scott, Attorney J. A. Flory and an Advocate reporter. Every one of course knew what the gathering meant and after Mr. Miller had telephoned to the sureties the Marshal took the capias from his pocket, with the remark, "Here's the capias," and thus made formal service. Immediately afterward Bauer, the prisoner, Walter Scott and the newspaper man left the office for the 4 o'clock Buckeye Lake car, which the three men took for Columbus.

Before going Mr. Scott said: "I shall have nothing to say, except that I am confident of acquittal. The whole story is going to come out, and I am rather glad it is this way than in any other. My arrest and trial will show to the public my position, and will give me a chance of vindication I might otherwise not have enjoyed."

Attorney Miller said after the arrest that Scott was guilty of no moral or legal wrong doing, and that when he came to trial he had no doubt but that he would be acquitted.

The statute on which the indictments against Hoover are predicated is section 5209, Revised Statutes of the United States, and reads as follows:

"Every president, director, cashier, teller, clerk or agent who makes any false entry in any book, report, or statement of the association with in-

WILD

Opening of Cotton Market In New York This Morning.

New York, Dec. 4.—There was a wild opening in the cotton market this morning. The orders came in large lots and so great was the confusion that the voice of Superintendent King who conducted the call, could scarcely be heard. Prices in Liverpool at their best were 42 to 45 points higher and equal to 84 to 90 points in our market. The market here opened 7 to 23 points higher. Enormous selling orders however, soon made themselves felt and the market sold off. Liverpool also broke on reported heavy selling there by prominent New York houses.

MILLER AND STRUBLE PLEADED GUILTY.

Newark Men Fined Five Hundred Dollars Each for Using Mails to Defraud and Are Given a Week to Settle Fine and Costs--Character Witnesses Testify for Defendants.

Columbus, O., Dec. 4.—W. H. H. Miller and S. E. Struble both of Newark, today pleaded guilty in the United States court to conspiracy in using the United States mails to defraud, in connection with the Globe Realty company. Statements were made to the court by the defendants' attorneys, Judge Hagerty and Gil C. Daugherty. Character witnesses testified in behalf of the defendants. They were Rees R. Jones, W. V. Jordan, George P. Webb, James F. Lingafelter, William A. Veach, Judge W. A. Irvine and Postmaster J. M. Ickes, all of Newark. They testified that the defendants had good reputations for honesty. The bulk of the testimony went to show that the real criminal in the case was G. W. J. Weltz, who forfeited his bail last June and has not been heard from since. Miller and Struble were fined

$500 each, to stand committed until fines and costs are paid. The sentence of commitment was suspended one week in order that the defendants might have an opportunity to settle. Miller & Struble conducted a real estate business on the east side of the public square at Newark. For some time Miller has been in Texas, but he recently returned to face the indictment in the United States court, having been released on a $100 bond.

GAS

Explodes at a Pittsburg Drug Store, Injuring a Number.

Pittsburg, Dec. 4.—About 10:30 o'clock this morning an explosion of gas occurred in the large drug store of Mays Bros. on Market street, between Fifth and Liberty avenues. The store was thronged with patrons and clerks and many were overcome from the shock and fumes. A panic was averted only by the fact that those within the store were temporarily rendered unable to make an effort to escape. Policemen were quickly on the scene, and with the aid of others, opened the windows and exits. A number of physicians were summoned and gave timely aid. Several of the victims are in a serious condition and are unconscious.

TRIAL

Of Meyers for Grand Larceny Commenced Today.

New York, Dec. 4.—The trial of Dan Meyers, ex-president of the defunct Manhattan Fire Insurance company, for grand larceny began here today. An attempt was made to have the place of the trial made at Mansfield, Ohio.

It was there that the overt act, if any, was committed by Meyers and William Hahn. Assistant District Attorney Garvan contended that inasmuch as Meyers and Hahn had met in this city and had here plotted to obtain money, they should be rightfully tried here. Recorder Goff ruled that the trial should continue here.

Zion City's Financial Affairs Found to be in Bad Shape--Subjects of the Restorer in Desperate Straits, Suffering for Necessities.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 4.—(Bulletin)—Hemmed in by creditors and with Zion City in the hands of receivers, John Alexander Dowie is making preparations to leave Chicago on January 1, and sail for Australia, there to join his wife and son. There is a possibility, however, that even if Dowie's examination before Referee in Bankruptcy Eastman is completed by that time he may find obstacles to this plan.

Members of the law firm looking after the interests of Samuel Stevenson, who holds Dowie's notes to the amount of $100,000 as an unpaid portion of a judgment of $150,000, flatly assert that Dowie will not be permitted to go except on a special order of Federal Judge Kohlsaat, who appointed the receivers.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—John Alexander Dowie will be put on the witness stand before Bankruptcy Referee Sidney C. Eastman, and under oath will be required to answer all questions regarding the financial affairs of Zion City.

While the date for the inquiry has not yet been set Judge Kohlsaat has entered the order which requires the Overseer of the Christian Catholic church to submit to an examination. This action was taken on motion of Attorney Samuel Ettelson, who filed the original petition in bankruptcy against Dowie.

"This application was not made for the purpose of harassing Dr. Dowie," said Attorney Ettelson.

"The receivers are now making an investigation of Dowie's accounts, and they will undoubtedly need his testimony to get a correct knowledge of his financial condition."

"It is for this purpose that Dowie will be called to the stand. The date of the examination will be set as soon as the receivers have found out what they want to question him about." Receivers Blunt and Currier spent most of the day at Zion City looking into all accounts which they could find, so they might prepare the report which Judge Kohlsaat has asked for concerning the advisability of continuing the operation of all industries belonging to Dowie.

The receivers, it is said, have found only about $12,000 in both of Dowie's banks.

Judge Kohlsaat has told the receivers he wants to know as soon as possible whether the interests of all creditors can be protected best by carrying on the various enterprises in Zion City.

It is not likely any of the industries will be closed, as in such an event thousands of persons in Zion City would thus be deprived of a means of livelihood.

This is said to be one of the main reasons why Dowie will be retained as manager of the business under the direction of the receivers.

The receivers realize Dowie's strong hold on his followers and wish to prevent any turn in events which might turn Zion City into a deserted village. That Zion City's two chief industries, the lace works and candy factory, are not paying expenses was officially disclosed today in an examination of the plants by Chief Custodian Redieske.

After questioning closely the managers of both concerns, Redieske said: "If Dowie relies on the industries of Zion City to pay his indebtedness the town will still be in the hands of receivers a year from now. Neither the lace works nor the candy factory is on a paying basis."

"In the case of the lace works I understand that lack of raw material is

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY

Creates a Deficit in Postoffice Department--Annual Report Submitted by the Third Assistant Postmaster General Edwin C. Madden.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Third Assistant Postmaster General Edwin C. Madden, in his annual report, says that the reform of the abuses of the second class mailing privileges is moving steadily forward and can be completed in two years.

Upwards of 30 publications are still involved in court proceedings on the question of second class privileges and on the result of these cases a great part of the reform depends.

Mr. Madden recommends that congress consolidate the third and fourth classes of mail matter and fix the rate of postage at one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

The report says: "The rate of increase in expenditures for the introduction and maintenance of the rural postage stamps to the individual free delivery service has been more than one hundred per cent per year, whereas the normal per cent of increase for the whole service has been approximately 11 per cent.

"But for this sudden and extraordinary increase in expenditure for a practically new, though necessary branch of the postal service, the deficiency in the postal revenue by the natural operation of things, under the system of administration now prevailing, would have been almost if not entirely eliminated."

Mr. Madden recommends that congress authorize the postmaster general to accept the mailings on large quantities of identical pieces of printed matter and small articles of merchandise without the necessity of affixing stamps to the individual pieces.

LAWYER BLAIR INDICTED.

Grand Jury Holds Former General Consul for World's Fair for Forgery--Arrest of Man In Hospital is Ordered.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 4.—Two indictments charging forgery in the first degree have been found by the grand jury against James L. Blair, former general counsel of the world's fair and a widely known and wealthy attorney.

Each indictment is based on the alleged forgery by Blair of a deed of trust to secure a loan from the estate of Peter Blow of St. Louis, of which Blair, as a trustee, had charge.

The indictments also charge Blair with forgery of the seal of the St. Louis recorder of deeds.

Two sheriffs were instructed to proceed to Mulhargy hospital, where Blair has been confined by illness since his collapse several weeks ago.

The punishment in each case ranges from 10 years to life imprisonment. The indictments indirectly result, it is understood from testimony before the grand jury by James T. Roberts, a former employee of Blair.

An impression which prevailed that the crime that which Roberts charged was outlawed by the statute of limitations, and that Blair could consequently not be prosecuted, was erroneous.

Forgery in the first degree is not covered by the statute of limitations.

GIRL

Was Under the Clairvoyant's Spell, Claims Her Father, Who Causes His Arrest

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 4.—Charged with enticing from her home Merle Mozelle, aged 16 years, daughter of Milton Mozelle, a business man of Logansport, Ind., Claude Lafferty, aged 27 years, an alleged clairvoyant, was arrested yesterday. According to Milton Mozelle, his daughter has been under Lafferty's "influence" nearly two weeks. In that time the clairvoyant is said to have induced the girl to use the drugs to which he is said to be a victim.

To the detectives who worked on the case the father of the girl intimated that he believed Lafferty was able to exert authority over any one he desired. He said his daughter readily became the victim of the clairvoyant's power. While in a partial trance Lafferty is said by the girl's father to have given her something to drink called a "new elixir," but which was really a solution of morphine.

TORN COTTHING

Carries Out Statement That Dobbins Was Attacked by a Bear.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Dec. 4.—Assistant Postmaster E. K. Dobbins, of this city, tells an almost incredible story of his being attacked on Allegheny street by a ferocious wild bear, but his clothing bears mute evidence to the truthfulness of the tale. Mr. Dobbins was on his way to the office at 5 o'clock to prepare the mails for the early train, when the animal suddenly approached him on its hind legs, placing its paws on his breast and pushing him to the ground. He managed by a fierce struggle to free himself from the animal's embrace and regain his feet. He then drew a revolver and fired several shots, the animal retreating without uttering a sound. Mr. Dobbins' heavy rain coat and his trousers were torn in several places by the paws of the infuriated beast.

With a cry of terror he jumped headlong through the window, down three stories, through the skylight of a building next door. There the police picked him up, cut and bruised.

TWENTY WOMEN

Shucked Corn All Day To Pay off the Debt on a Church.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 4.—Twenty women went into a corn field near Owensville, Gibson county, yesterday and shucked corn all day in order to raise money to pay off part of the debt on the Methodist church of that place. The women have been working hard to pay off the debt, and recently W. P. Todd, the Sunday school superintendent, told them they could have all the corn they could shuck in his field, the money derived from the grain to be applied on the debt. Many men paid $1 admission into the field to see the women working. Other religious farmers will give the women a chance.

A MOUNTAIN PINK.

The character of Belle Traiton, the daughter of Colonel Traiton, in "A Mountain Pink" is one that requires more talent than the average juvenile woman possesses. The management has secured for this benefit tonight Miss S. Asencia Price, to handle this difficult role, Newark's favorite and talented characterist, whose work makes the role almost as prominent as the lead which is an ingenue.

The management of "A Mountain Pink" have secured the world renowned contortionists, hand equilibrists and acrobats, Lehman and Miller, to give their exclusive specialty Friday night at the benefit to be given by Golden Rod Lodge, No. 160, A. O. U. W.

Remember this is a special attraction and this performance will positively be given in addition to the other specialties, new songs, etc. Don't forget the date, tonight, at the Auditorium.

The theme and trend of the story is built on incidents of a

About 9:30 o'clock Friday morning Coroner C. F. Lega received word that the body of a man who had evidently been killed by a train, was lying along the Pan Handle tracks in Madison township, about four miles east of the city, having been discovered there by several of the men who were passing on a hand car. He was accompanied to the scene by Dowers & Bradley's dead wagon, and they found the body of a man five feet six inches tall, who weighed about 130 pounds, slightly built, with brown hair that had been allowed to grow quite long. His face and skull were crushed laterally to a pulp, his right leg and both arms broken and his chest crushed in. The face was unrecognizable, and it was not possible to tell from the few papers and other belongings found in the pockets who the unfortunate fellow was.

It is supposed that he was struck by an early morning westbound train. It was seen that the man had been hurled fully 60 feet from where he was struck, and in the snow was plainly discernible the marks of the contact of the body with the earth. He had struck no less than four times, bounding down the 30-foot embankment, and the body finally came to a stop under a culvert. A watch, a couple of coins, a pocket and a note written in the Polish language were all that the coroner found. It is supposed that he was a tramp. The body was taken to Dowers & Bradley's undertaking establishment and prepared for burial, after the coroner concludes his investigation.

SNOWBANK

Was the Bed of the Baby, Born on a Fast Eastern Express—Mother May Die.

New York, Dec. 4.—A lusty-tongued, eight-pounds new-born baby, yelling with all her might as she lay in a pile of snow, as bare of clothing as Mother Nature before the fall, riveted the gaze of persons at the Orange (N. J.) station of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western as the eastbound Eastern express drew out.

As quickly as possible the little one was picked up and hustled to the Memorial hospital, where the nurses soon had her quieted and cheerfully announced that the mysterious little snow child will live.

Passengers on a railway car speeding toward Hoboken heard a commotion in the washroom for women and notified the conductor. He found the door locked. With the assistance of the train crew he forced the door and found that Mrs. May Smith, of Greenwood Lake, had become the mother of a baby. The little one was missing. Mrs. Smith said she opened the window of the car, fearing the child was being suffocated, and the little one dropped from her arms into the pile of snow. Physicians say that Mrs. Smith has about an even chance for life.

Claims Murder of Father of Greater New York Was a Bargain Made With Satan.

New York, Dec. 4.—That after God had refused to answer his prayers and he had sold his soul to the devil, he, Andrew H. Green, under a bargain with Satan, is permitted to slay three men, is the extraordinary explanation given by Cornelius Williams of the murder of the father of Greater New York.

Williams told the experts the names of the other two men who were marked for death. He declared that if he had his liberty he would kill both, as his soul is lost in any event, under the devil bargain.

STRANGER

KILLED BY TRAIN EAST OF THE CITY OF NEWARK.

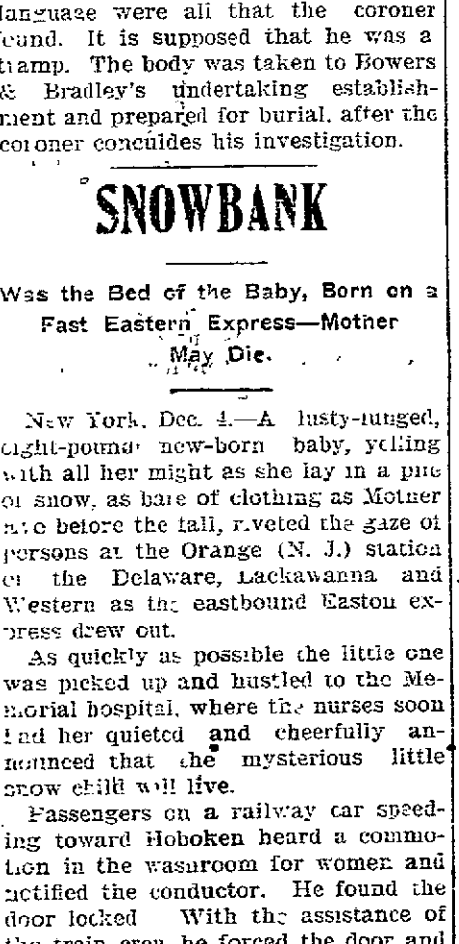

Body Was Horribly Mangled and Nothing to Identify the Man Found on the Person.

The Widow Ray was tired of being a widow. For seven years she had been left to run the farm with the help of a hired man. The time had come when she longed to shift the burdens on the shoulders of a man. Not that she couldn't have married within a year or two after the lamented Ray fell off a haystack and broke his neck, but she had ideals. She had turned to poetry in the first six months of her bereavement, and she felt her soul soaring above the hickory shirts and stoga boots of the average farmer. If she married again the standard must be higher.

In the years that followed men of higher standard came into her life, but matrimony did not follow. There was a windmill man who hung about for a month and sighed and bragged by turns, but just as he was about to propose marriage the widow discovered that he had two or three wives elsewhere. There was a lightning rod man who wrote poetry and talked of the whippoorwills and nightingales, but he was arrested and carted off to jail before he could ask her to be his. A piano man with ideals as high as her own came within an ace of asking for her heart and hand, but was interrupted by a case of jumping toothache. There were two or three others who might have won her heart, but didn't. And there was Deacon White. He lived on the next farm west and was a widow five years older than herself. He had been the first in the field. Fifteen months after her bereavement he had stood on the steps beside the kitchen door and said:

"Widder Ray, I'm a plain man and don't say nothin' but what I mean. If you'll marry me, I'll do my best to make you a good husband."

The widow was not for the widower, and she didn't make any bones of telling him so. He didn't get mad or commit suicide. He simply hung on and sketching went on the Widow Ray had her own work cut out. She had lived among the daisies and buttercups all her life and cared no more for them than she did for dandelions, but on this summer morning she started out to cull a bouquet.

In due time she appeared in Deacon White's meadow. Both the deacon and the artist had their backs toward her as she approached them and were therefore ignorant of her presence. The widow looked to the right for daisies and to the left for buttercups and ahead and behind for rattlesnakes. All of a sudden the farmer was jumped a foot high and the artist off his camp stool by a long, shrill scream. They turned to find the woman in a heap on the grass with her hands over her face. She heard the rush of footsteps, and as some one seized her hands she gasped out:

"The snake! The snake! Oh, I have been bitten!"

"By gum, but is that so?" she heard a voice exclaim, and next moment she was picked up and thrown over a manly shoulder and was being borne toward her own house.

She didn't recognize the voice, but as the man bearing her reached the first fence and tried to climb it she identified the deacon's asthmatic wheeze. She at once wriggled out of his arms and pushed him away. Then she looked beyond him and saw the artist rolling on the ground with laughter. He hadn't rushed to the rescue. He hadn't declared his love.

"How dare you?" she exclaimed as she thought of the picture she must have presented as she lay across the deacon's shoulder like a bag of potatoes.

"Why, baint you bin bitten by a snake?" he asked in reply.

"No, sir, of course not."

"But I thought you said you had?"

"I said I had twisted my ankle. What is that idiot laughing at over there?"

That evening the deacon showed up after his day's work to say that the artist was going away next morning. Much to his surprise, the widow turned on him with:

"Well, deacon, as you will keep on pestering me for the next five years if I don't say yes, I'm going to say it. But you just remember we ain't never to take no suppedead artist to hang around and make fools of us."

"I-I don't understand," replied the deacon, with a puzzled look.

But she did, and that was enough.

He Got the Job.

"I was much amused the other day," said an uptown hardware dealer, "at a small boy who came around looking for a job. One of the clerks had dropped a lot of sharp pointed tacks into a drawer of brass screws and had given up the idea of taking them out."

"When the youngster turned up looking for a job we thought we would try him out by letting him sort the two articles. He went at it the same way we had begun, picking out the tacks with his fingers and getting the point of every third tack in the ball of his thumb."

"He had enough in about a minute, and he straightened up. We all began to smile, expecting him to give up the job. Instead of that he went over to the show case and picked out a horse-shoe magnet. Then he came back to the box. In thirty seconds he had the tacks out, and the screws were still in the compartment. He knew that the magnet would attract iron and not brass, and in a jiffy he had accomplished what we had been trying to do all the morning."

"We didn't really need a boy, but this chap's smartness appealed to us, and we find him so handy to have around that next Saturday he gets a raise."—New York Press.

A Resourceful Woman.

"I think it is a foolish fashion that so many women indulge, that of telling their age wrongly," said the woman with the prematurely gray hair. "I can honestly say that I never practice it myself."

"No?" said her friend, with many meanings in the monosyllable.

"Well," said the first speaker, with a smile—she was a woman with a sense of humor—"the fact is I don't have to. I have a way of making myself out younger than I am if I wish to without telling a fib at all."

"Really?" inquired the other curiously. "In what way?"

"I put the burden of the fib all upon the questioner. You see, when one of my dear women friends—it is always women who are curious on this point—asks me how old I am I say: 'Oh, I'm a year or two older than you, you know, my dear—at least a year older. Let me see, now, how old are you?' And then she always knocks more off my age than I should ever have the nerve to do myself."

Extreme Absentmindedness.

"The queerest case of absentmindedness that I have ever known of," remarked the night clerk of a certain hotel, "was that which happened at this hotel early yesterday morning. Two fellow boarders, one Jones by name and the other whose name is Brown, occupied a room on the third floor."

"Well, Brown requested me to have him wakened at 5 o'clock so as to allow him to catch the 4 o'clock train. He was awakened at the requested time, and in his hurry to dress himself he put on Jones' clothes by mistake. He did not discover his mistake until he reached the depot, and would you believe it?"—here the speaker paused—"when he found out that he was wearing some one else's clothes he immediately returned to the hotel and went right to bed."

"I don't see any absentmindedness about that," broke in one of the listeners.

"You don't? Why, he thought that I had awakened the wrong man."—Philadelphia Press.

STRANGER

KILLED BY TRAIN EAST OF THE CITY OF NEWARK.

Body Was Horribly Mangled and Nothing to Identify the Man Found on the Person.

The Widow Ray was tired of being a widow. For seven years she had been left to run the farm with the help of a hired man. The time had come when she longed to shift the burdens on the shoulders of a man. Not that she couldn't have married within a year or two after the lamented Ray fell off a haystack and broke his neck, but she had ideals. She had turned to poetry in the first six months of her bereavement, and she felt her soul soaring above the hickory shirts and stoga boots of the average farmer. If she married again the standard must be higher.

In the years that followed men of higher standard came into her life, but matrimony did not follow. There was a windmill man who hung about for a month and sighed and bragged by turns, but just as he was about to propose marriage the widow discovered that he had two or three wives elsewhere. There was a lightning rod man who wrote poetry and talked of the whippoorwills and nightingales, but he was arrested and carted off to jail before he could ask her to be his. A piano man with ideals as high as her own came within an ace of asking for her heart and hand, but was interrupted by a case of jumping toothache. There were two or three others who might have won her heart, but didn't. And there was Deacon White. He lived on the next farm west and was a widow five years older than herself. He had been the first in the field. Fifteen months after her bereavement he had stood on the steps beside the kitchen door and said:

"Widder Ray, I'm a plain man and don't say nothin' but what I mean. If you'll marry me, I'll do my best to make you a good husband."

The widow was not for the widower, and she didn't make any bones of telling him so. He didn't get mad or commit suicide. He simply hung on and sketching went on the Widow Ray had her own work cut out. She had lived among the daisies and buttercups all her life and cared no more for them than she did for dandelions, but on this summer morning she started out to cull a bouquet.

In due time she appeared in Deacon White's meadow. Both the deacon and the artist had their backs toward her as she approached them and were therefore ignorant of her presence. The widow looked to the right for daisies and to the left for buttercups and ahead and behind for rattlesnakes. All of a sudden the farmer was jumped a foot high and the artist off his camp stool by a long, shrill scream. They turned to find the woman in a heap on the grass with her hands over her face. She heard the rush of footsteps, and as some one seized her hands she gasped out:

"The snake! The snake! Oh, I have been bitten!"

"By gum, but is that so?" she heard a voice exclaim, and next moment she was picked up and thrown over a manly shoulder and was being borne toward her own house.

She didn't recognize the voice, but as the man bearing her reached the first fence and tried to climb it she identified the deacon's asthmatic wheeze. She at once wriggled out of his arms and pushed him away. Then she looked beyond him and saw the artist rolling on the ground with laughter. He hadn't rushed to the rescue. He hadn't declared his love.

"How dare you?" she exclaimed as she thought of the picture she must have presented as she lay across the deacon's shoulder like a bag of potatoes.

"Why, baint you bin bitten by a snake?" he asked in reply.

"No, sir, of course not."

"But I thought you said you had?"

That evening the deacon showed up after his day's work to say that the artist was going away next morning. Much to his surprise, the widow turned on him with:

"Well, deacon, as you will keep on pestering me for the next five years if I don't say yes, I'm going to say it. But you just remember we ain't never to take no suppedead artist to hang around and make fools of us."

"I-I don't understand," replied the deacon, with a puzzled look.

But she did, and that was enough.

He Got the Job.

"I was much amused the other day," said an uptown hardware dealer, "at a small boy who came around looking for a job. One of the clerks had dropped a lot of sharp pointed tacks into a drawer of brass screws and had given up the idea of taking them out."

"When the youngster turned up looking for a job we thought we would try him out by letting him sort the two articles. He went at it the same way we had begun, picking out the tacks with his fingers and getting the point of every third tack in the ball of his thumb."

"He had enough in about a minute, and he straightened up. We all began to smile, expecting him to give up the job. Instead of that he went over to the show case and picked out a horse-shoe magnet. Then he came back to the box. In thirty seconds he had the tacks out, and the screws were still in the compartment. He knew that the magnet would attract iron and not brass, and in a jiffy he had accomplished what we had been trying to do all the morning."

"We didn't really need a boy, but this chap's smartness appealed to us, and we find him so handy to have around that next Saturday he gets a raise."—New York Press.

Many women are denied the happiness of children through derangement of the generative organs. Mrs. Beyer advises women to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with stomach complaint for years. I got so bad that I could not carry my children but five months, then would have a miscarriage. The last time I became pregnant, my husband got me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking the first bottle I was relieved of the sickness of stomach, and began to feel better in every way. I continued its use and was enabled to carry my baby to maturity. I now have a nice baby girl, and can work better than I ever could before. I am like a new woman."—Mrs. FRANK BEYER, 22 S. Second St., Meriden, Conn.

Another case which proves that no other medicine in the world accomplishes the same results as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for five years and gave birth to two premature children. After that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy and healthy wife within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, who is the pride and joy of my household. If every woman who is cured feels as grateful and happy as I do, you must have a host of friends, for every day I bless you for the light, health and happiness Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought to my home. Sincerely yours, Mrs. MAE P. WHARRY, Flat 31, The Norman, Milwaukee, Wis."

WEDDING

OF ROBBINS HUNTER AND MISS DAISY BURNER

Took Place Here November 19, Rev. Mr. VanFossen Officiating, but Was Kept Secret.

A wedding that will surprise the friends of the young couple was solemnized at the Episcopal church in this city on Thursday, November 19, when Rector George W. Van Fossen joined in marriage Mr. Robbins Hunter, the only son of Judge and Mrs. S. M. Hunter, and Miss Daisy Katherine Burner, daughter of Mrs. J. V. Burner, the only witnesses present being Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Stinson, the latter a sister of the bride.

The wedding has been kept a secret until the present, not on account of any parental objections on either side, but because the young people have plans for the future that it is neither timely nor necessary to make public. In some manner the matter leaked out, and the attempt to confirm the rumors caused Mr. Hunter and the young woman's family much annoyance. To settle all such Mr. Hunter today authorized the Advocate to announce the happy event.

The young people are well known and prominent in the best circles of Newark society, and will have the best wishes of all their friends for a long life of happiness and success. They will, for the present at least, make their home in Newark, but a more definite announcement of their intentions in this matter will be made later. At present Mrs. Hunter is quite ill with pneumonia, but her condition was much more favorable today and there appears now to be no doubt as to her recovery.

VAN WINKLE-SCHUMAKER.

Mr. Lawrence Van Winkle and Mrs. Louise Schumaker, two well known people of this city, were married on Thursday night. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Nicholas Lohman, on South Sixth street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Schindel in the presence of a number of friends of the contracting parties, after which a sumptuous wedding supper was partaken of. During the evening quite a number of the friends of the newly wedded couple called to extend their congratulations.

CHICAGO

Will Try to Rid City of Its Crop of Winter Tramps—It's the Orders of the Mayor.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—"Rid Chicago of its winter crop of tramps and saloon loafers," is the edict from the mayor. "The idler of today may become the hold-up man of tomorrow."

The raid continued through the night, and by the early hours today the cell rooms of the Harrison street station were filled with prisoners. The "flying squadron" are composed of young, ambitious police officers clad in street clothes and not yet distinguishable by a "police walk." The little armies of non-detectable detectives have been given orders to act, and never in years has a series of raids struck such terror into the hearts of the tramp element.

In every instance the front and rear doors of the resort are guarded by detectives, while others enter and search the occupants for knives and revolvers. Every man is asked to give an account of himself, and if his explanation is unsatisfactory the man is immediately arrested.

The result is the purest and most economical government in the country. Toledo, Cleveland and Columbus would obtain like results under a like condition."

REDRESS

FOR THE WRONGS SUFFERED BY COLOMBIA

Will be Sought at the Hands of the United States—Gen. Reyes Meets Secretary Hay.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—In accordance with an appointment, Dr. Herran, the Colombian charge, and General Reyes, Colombia's special representative, took luncheon with Secretary Hay at the latter's home.

General Reyes and Dr. Herran talked with Secretary Hay as to the methods of procedure General Reyes shall follow in performing the duties of the mission which has brought him and his fellow commissioners to Washington. Only the general lines of the representations they are to make to the state department have been decided on. They are still awaiting explicit instructions from Bogota as to the specific requests to be made on this government before reaching a decision regarding the course of procedure.

When General Reyes left Bogota the government de jure at Panama had not been formally recognized by the United States, so that his later instructions will cover the events which have occurred since that time, including the signing of the canal treaty.

Colombia has a number of grievances, one official said, and General Reyes will try to secure some redress for the wrongs which she has suffered. He comes to Washington as an envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary on a special mission with full diplomatic standing.

Arrangements will be made soon for his presentation to President Roosevelt in that capacity, after which whatever negotiations may be subsequently conducted will be through the state department.

Secretary Hay had a talk with the president about the developments on the isthmus of Panama. Secretary Moody dropped in while the subject was under consideration and joined in the conference. As a result of the conference it is possible that one of the United States warships now at Colon will be used to bring the Panama canal treaty ratified at Panama to the United States. The authorities here have decided that it was proper to facilitate in every way the conclusion of the treaty, and influenced in some measure by the urgings of the Panama representatives here, cabled instructions to United States Consul General Gudgeon to assist in all proper ways in the dispatch of the treaty on its return to Washington. This is the explanation of the consul general's conduct in confiding the treaty to Rear Admiral Walker for conveyance across the isthmus from Panama to Colon. The treaty should reach Washington in the ordinary course about December 15.

HANNA WILL NOT SERVE.

Washington, Dec. 4.—It is reported that Senator Hanna has definitely decided not to accept the chairmanship of the Republican national committee for another term, and that he will so inform the president this evening. The president and Mr. Hanna are expected at this meeting to agree upon someone for the chairmanship. It is believed that Mr. Hanna will insist on the retention of Perry Heath as secretary of the committee until the close of his term, which will be at the time of the national convention.

THE PEOPLE MUST HAVE A HEARING.

The stand-pat people on the question not only of tariff revision, but of reciprocity, appear to be in control in the Republican party in Congress. Mr. Payne, who is chairman of the ways and means committee of the House, and Senator Aldrich, who controls revenue and financial legislation in the South, both unite in saying there will be no legislation on the tariff. On the question of reciprocity Mr. Aldrich gives McKinley the go-by, and declares he sees "no indication whatever that there is to be any general policy in the way of adopting reciprocity treaties." Of course if reciprocity is out of the question, even as advised by President McKinley in his Buffalo speech, tariff revision and reduction are out of the question. The high tariff faction in the Republican party has completely suppressed the other side, including President Roosevelt, who, two years ago, actually recommended a tariff commission to consider revision. The stand-paters are triumphant, but for all that it will be difficult to suppress tariff discussion in this Congress or in the Presidential election. This is the demand of the trust power—that the great economic issue of our day shall not even be considered. It undoubtedly will give the Democratic party a great advantage in making up the issues for next year. The American people have never accepted the doctrine of finalities in legislation, and never will in this progressive age. It antagonizes the genius and spirit of our institutions. The Republican pretense that the tariff must be revised only by the Republican party means there shall be no revision so long as the trust power and influence forbid. The trust demand, however, is not the Alpha and Omega of American politics. It is possible and probable the people may be aroused next year as they were against McKinleyism in 1890 and 1892, and Dingleyism is a far more atrocious exercise of the taxing power for the advantage and supremacy of the trusts.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY AGAINST ROOSEVELT.

(Pittsburg Post.)
In a three-column thriller, with headlines in circus type of yellow tint, the Philadelphia Press allows a correspondent to assert that Secretary Root, before he retires next month, will startle the Senate military committee with exposure of a grand conspiracy against Mr. Roosevelt by several oligarchies, all seeking to humiliate him and exact pledges distasteful to so chronic a sermonizer. Mr. Root is holling over because Major General Brooke did not complain, at the time, of Wood's reporting direct to the war department instead of through his superior. Was not the reception of Wood's reports sufficient notification of the subordinate acts? Mr. Odel is another oligarchist and he seeks to have Mr. Roosevelt's action with him, so that he can again become governor when $100,000,000 for the large canal is available. The senate also must have its war, and finally Mr. Hanna's admitted flirting with the proclericaly is explained by his subservience to this oligarchy. We now have the pleasure of introducing Mr. Root, who will address you.

FOUND

Dead in the Woods From a Gunshot Wound, With His Leg Eaten off By Animals.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Dec. 4.—David Simmons, of Spencer, was partially eaten by his dog, which is also believed to have killed him, after Simmons had been accidentally wounded while hunting. Simmons started out Sunday with his gun and two dogs. When he did not return in the evening it was thought he had remained with neighbors for the night, but when the second day passed and he did not return, search was instituted. The larger dog came home yesterday morning with its head covered with blood. After diligent search Simmons' dead body was found with one leg almost totally eaten away. A bullet wound showed that he had been shot while hunting and there were evidences of a struggle, in which it is thought the dog attacked his wounded master, being crazed by the smell of blood, and finally killed him. The smaller dog stood faithful guard and had not a drop of blood on its head. Simmons had been dead about four days when found.

GOOD ORE

Over Hundred Feet Wide in the Main Vein of the Opal Gold Mine in Washington

W. C. Peay, manager of the Opal Gold Mining company, received the following telegram from the superintendent of the mines yesterday, at Chesaw, Wash.:
"Reached main vein. Good ore over one hundred feet wide. J. P. Blaine."
A number of Newark people are interested in these mines. Mr. Peay started last night for the mines to be gone two weeks. A meeting of the board of directors has been called to set a day for taking the stock entirely off the market.
The officers of the company are: O. E. Kinsley, president, Columbus, O.; Dr. W. G. Corne, vice president, Newark; M. O. Nash, second vice president, Newark; Dr. I. H. Robb, secretary, Newark; F. L. Woodbridge, treasurer, Newark; W. C. Peay, general manager, Newark; Jas. P. Blaine, superintendent of mines, Chesaw, Wash.

TO HANNA

Mrs. Boswell is Said to Have Written Blackmailing Letters—Fined in United States Court.

Columbus, O., Dec. 4.—Mrs. Mary E. Boswell entered a plea of guilty in the United States Court last night to the charge of using the mails to attempt blackmail. She was fined $500 and assessed the cost.
Mrs. Boswell sent threatening letters to Z. L. White, a local merchant. She made allusions to "the miss in your store that wears diamonds," and said that unless certain sums of money were deposited in out of the way places she would expose the merchant to his wife and to the pastor of his church. She wrote the letters under the guise of a "strong man," and referred to "my sweetheart" as the person to receive the money.
It is said that under the name of Anna Linn, Mrs. Boswell also wrote blackmailing letters to Senator Hanna. Mrs. Boswell was given until today to pay the fine Judge Thompson was lenient with her, because the woman is considered not altogether responsible mentally.
Lee Frazier, a Zanesville young man, was sentenced to eight months in the Miami county jail for threatening to burn down the mill of his employer, John Drone, unless he paid him $900 in gold.
Hugh Devine, of Zanesville, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary, and his brother, Frank, was sentenced to 13 months for passing counterfeit coin. Hugh received the heavy sentence because he had served time.
Robert G. Hall and William McDonald were indicted for using the mails to defraud in connection with a butter and egg business. They are charged with having purchased $16,000 of the dairy and poultry products on commission and then not paying for them.

SUCCESSFUL

Test of Wireless System for Propelling Traction Cars Made on the Pennsylvania Road.

Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 4.—A new surface contact transportation system was successfully tested here Thursday on a mile of track on the Chesapeake and Pennsylvania railroad in the presence of a large number of electricians and railroad men.
The inventor is Leon W. Pullen, a young Philadelphia electrician. His method of car propulsion does away with the third rail, overhead wires, poles, open conduit, cables and storage batteries, and is called a wireless system. It is claimed for it that the cost of maintenance is one-fourth that of any other system.
An immense open trolley car was used for the experiment, and over 100 people were crowded into it. Beneath the car are attached a series of magnets, which make the contact as the car passes over the boxes which are in the center of the tracks a distance of 16 feet apart. In appearance the contacts are like inverted saucers. These are located on the surface of the street, but do not in the least impede travel. The contacts are alive only at the time of the passage of the car over them. The car is supplied with a current by magnets, and when the latter passes over the contact they fly upward, making the contact in a flash of time.
The test was declared to be perfectly successful by the electricians and railway men who witnessed it. The car ran smoothly and practically at any rate of speed required. It is claimed that by running full-sized passenger coaches, sleepers, freight and street railway cars all upon one system, each box will furnish 300 horse power, two boxes to a car and three cars to a train, that 1,800 horse power will be generated and a speed of 80 miles an hour, attained with no loss of current.
The equipment can be placed on either a steam or electric road at moderate cost.
The Wireless Railway company, owner of the new system, is incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia, with a capital stock of $1,000,000.

Whisky Saved Him.

Toledo, O., Dec. 3.—After making an attempt to take his own life by eating poison Frank Kelby, a former inmate of the county infirmary, walked the streets of the city coolly waiting for death to relieve him of his sufferings. He owes his life to the fact that he was intoxicated, the whisky acting as an antidote to the poison. Kelby came to Toledo three years ago from Cleveland, but previously had resided in Portland, Ore. Financial reverses caused despondency and he became an habitual drunkard.

STATE HOME

FOR CRIPPLED AND DEFORMED CHILDREN RECOMMENDED.

Where Mental and Manual Training Can be Had—Appropriation of $200,000 Urged.

Columbus, O., Dec. 4.—The special commission to look into the matter of establishing a State Home for Crippled and Deformed Children recommends to the Legislature that $200,000 be appropriated for this purpose. The report was made public in the Governor's office Thursday. It is estimated that there are 2,900 children in the state who should have state care. The commission appealed to doctors and ministers for information, and out of 11,500 requests only 228 responded.
Hamilton county reports 336 crippled and Cuyahoga county only 30. Wayne, Wyandot, Ashland, Athens, Carroll, Mercer, Morrow, Noble and Union counties made no reports.
The conclusions of the commission in substance are that these children are equally entitled to the privileges and benefits of mental and manual training which are afforded the blind and deaf and dumb, and that, therefore, a state institution for their care, treatment and education is equally desirable and necessary. In regard to the feasibility of the state providing such an institution the report says that the work accomplished in Minnesota and other states shows it to be a most important factor in the field of charities. The plan adopted in Minnesota is given in detail and seems to be well perfected.
After referring to the Minnesota system the report says the average number of blind in Ohio is about 300, and about 500 deaf and dumb children. The commissioners hold that the state should without further delay provide treatment and education for crippled and deformed children.
The report closes with the following recommendation: The institution should be founded on broad lines. It should provide the best medical and surgical skill, with hospital facilities and mental and manual instructions adapted to the requirements of these children. It should be located near a large industrial center with facilities for expert medical service and mechanical works. It should have not less than 50 acres of land. To accomplish this we recommend the appropriation of $200,000.
The commission is composed of Rev. John Hewitt, president, Columbus; A. R. Voorheis, Cincinnati; Chas. E. Sawyer, M. D., Marion; A. L. Spitzer, Toledo, and E. C. Bush, M. D., Zanesville.

Y. M. C. A. Basket Ball.

The first in the series of 21 games of basket ball to be played by the members of the Basket Ball League was played last evening. Beecher's Blues defeated Moore's Grays, in a closely contested game, the final score being Blues 20, Grays 16. The teams lined up as follows:
Goals from field, Ankele 1, Ball 3, Moore 2, Burk 1, Beecher 6, Miller 1. Goals from foul, Ball 1, Moore 2, Burk 3. Fouled while throwing for goal, Moore once, Beecher once. According to the new rules if a player is fouled while throwing for goal it adds one point to the score of his side.
Referee and umpire, Fitzgerald. Scorer and timekeeper, Doughty.
The next league game will be played Thursday, December 10, between Pine's Blacks and Doughty's Reds. This game will be called at 7 o'clock and will be followed by the game between the Newark High school and the Buckner Class Club team of Zanesville.
Much interest is being manifested in basket ball this season and a large crowd is expected next Thursday.

CONSUMPTION

Mainly Caused by Chronic Colds and Hanging-on Coughs.

Mr. Frank D. Hall, our well known druggist, has given a good deal of time to the study of consumption, and finds that comparatively few cases are hereditary.
Mostly all are caused by neglected coughs and colds which gradually weaken the whole pulmonary system, and before people realize it there is a diseased spot in one lung; spitting blood soon follows and eventually a collapse.
Such an unnecessary end, such a pity, for all could have been so different. We know of hundreds of cases where our wonderful cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, has saved a young and valuable life, which without it would have been sacrificed. We have letters from people who were given up to die, and who positively state that Vinol, and Vinol alone, saved their lives when all else had failed to help them.
Vinol is able to cure hanging-on colds and stubborn coughs, because it is the most perfect preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded; it contains no oil or grease to upset the delicate stomach, yet it does contain every one of the fifty odd medicinal curative elements actually taken from fresh cods' livers, and we freely and publicly state that we will supply all the Vinol we think necessary to cure any case of chronic coughs, hanging-on colds or weak and debilitated conditions of Newark people, and pay for the medicine ourselves if it fails to give satisfactory results.
How can we express our faith in Vinol more emphatically? Frank D. Hall, Druggist.

Loomis Denies It.

The following dispatch under a Newark date was published in a Cincinnati paper this morning:
The statement from Springfield in a Cincinnati evening paper that I intimated that Mr. Herrick or any one else, is the administration candidate for Vice President is false.—Francis B. Loomis.

The above statement was made by Mr. Loomis, who was asked regarding a story to the effect that Mr. Loomis had declared Myron T. Herrick was Roosevelt's choice for the second place on the ticket.

VERY ROMANTIC

Was the Marriage of C. I. Worley and Miss Cietta M. Patton of Utica.

(Utica News-Herald.)

The following story of the marriage of Mr. C. I. Worley and Miss Cietta M. Patton, both well known young people of this place will be read with much interest by their many friends here. They returned here last Sunday evening and the following account of their wedding was taken from last Sunday's Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"While the train he was to take out was standing in the station, and the fireman getting on a full head of steam, the conductor of a Pennsylvania railway train and his sweetheart rushed to Newport in a cab and were married.

"The household of Squire Hutchinson was aroused at 6 o'clock yesterday morning by the rattle of carriage wheels and a violent ringing at the door bell. The Squire hurried to the door and was hustled in the vehicle. The bridegroom explained the case as with watch in hand he urged the driver to hurry to the home of County Clerk Betz to obtain the marriage license.

"C. I. Worley and Miss Cietta M. Patton, both of whom live at Utica, O., were the bridegroom and bride. The trip to the Betz home and then to Hutchinson's office, where the marriage took place, was made in record time, and Mr. and Mrs. Worley returned to the station on time to catch their train."

UNIQUE

Is This Twenty-Two Years Old Typewriter, Which is Owned by a Granville Man.

Mr. Herman Bevard, of Granville, is the owner of a most unique typewriter. It is one of the first machines ever manufactured, and is not to be compared with the modern typewriter in any respect. In writing with the machine, each letter has to be stamped separately and its operation is painfully slow. It is twenty-two years old and is of the Isa Hall make. It was owned by Mr. Pryor, proprietor of the hotel in the Pryor block, and was next owned by Mr. Martin, who purchased the hotel from Mr. Pryor. It finally fell into the hands of Mr. Bevard, who highly prizes it on account of its antiquity.

FRAZEYSBURG

ALMOST CUT OFF BY THE PENNSY RAILROAD.

Only One Train Each Way Daily Allowed the Village—Both Sides Losers in the Fight.

There seems to be no let up in the fight between the village of Frazeysburg and the Pennsylvania railroad company, although the original question of the observance of the speed ordinance has now practically been lost sight of.

The village has won its point as far as the reduction of speed to eight miles an hour is concerned and the railroad has also placed one watchman at crossings, but residents of the town are now suffering great inconvenience.

The Postal Telegraph office has been removed, the electric lights around the depot have been taken away and Garrett's crew of twenty men has been discontinued. Three trains leaving Frazeysburg, Numbers 3, 10 and 18 have been annulled and the village now has only one train each way daily. These are No. 3 due at 6:30 a. m. and No. 22 due at 6:30 p. m.

Before the trouble between the town and railroad began the village had excellent mail and train service.

The annual installation of the officers of Acacia Lodge, No. 464, F. & A. M., of Wilkins, took place on Thursday evening. The event was a red letter occasion in the history of the lodge, and nearly one hundred members of the lodge and visitors were in attendance. Mr. Thomas M. Jones, of this city, was the installing officer and was ably assisted by A. R. Pitser, also of this city. Following are the officers installed:

W. M.—C. J. V. Holtz.
S. W.—Franklin Wilkin.
J. W.—George T. Tavener.
Treasurer—W. F. Holton.
Secretary—Milton Smith.
S. D.—Thomas Kishinbury.
J. D.—James W. Wilson.
Tyler—O. F. Miller.

After the work of installing the officers had been concluded Mr. Thomas M. Jones, on behalf of the members of the lodge, presented Mr. Holtz with a fine lambskin apron. Mr. Holtz responded in a neat speech, in which he thanked the members for their kind remembrance of him. Mr. Holtz has filled the office of Master of the lodge for seven years, and is just entering on his eighth year. Interesting talks were also made by A. R. Pitser, Stewart Barnes and others, after which a fine banquet was partaken of. Old Acacia lodge is in a very prosperous condition and her membership is rapidly increasing.

tent in either case to injure or de-train the association, or to deceive any officer of the association, and every person who with like intent aids or abets any officer, clerk or agent in any violation of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and imprisoned not less than five years, nor more than ten years.

One indictment against Scott is based on this statute, while the other is founded on a supplemental statute, section 5140, as amended which is as follows:

"If two or more persons conspire to commit any offense against the United States or to defraud the United States in any manner or for any purpose, and one or more of such parties do any acts to effect the object of the conspiracy all parties shall be liable to pay a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars, or be imprisoned not more than two years."

It is hardly necessary to recount in detail Hoover's alleged unlawful transactions in two banks, and Scott's connection with him, but a brief resume of the case may be read with interest.

While Hoover was absent attending the launching of the battleship Ohio at San Francisco, he was assistant cashier of the Peoples National bank, when Scott was a book keeper. Scott during Hoover's absence kept his books, and discovered book discrepancies. Hoover requested Scott to keep the matter a secret, telling him that he (Hoover) would make the shortage up. Soon after Hoover became cashier of the Licking County bank, and here he took $36,000 which he paid into the Peoples bank making good his shortage there.

In order to do this certificates of deposit were issued for the amount at the bank and the stubs marked paid. Hoover did this work after banking hours, Scott letting him in the bank. When the shortage at the Licking County bank was discovered Scott was employed there, and was prevailed upon to tell of Hoover's and his actions at the Peoples bank. It was supposed by Scott that the certificates of deposit had been destroyed, but such was not the case, and Hoover turned them over to the Licking bank. A suit was brought by this bank against the Peoples bank to collect the certificates, and when it became known that the books at this bank, a national institution had been tampered with, the United States government took a hand in the case, with the result that both have been indicted.

H. P. Scott and his sureties, as soon as they arrived in Columbus Thursday night went immediately to the Federal building, where the bond was ready for the signatures of the sureties. It was for $10,000, and was immediately signed, the whole occurrence occupying only a few minutes.

Soon after this formality the party came back to Newark. Friday morning Mr. Scott went to the office of his attorney, C. W. Miller, and it was decided to retain Judge S. M. Hunter, one of the most prominent criminal lawyers in Ohio, as one of Scott's counsel.

The defendant in the now famous case, looked refreshed and said he had enjoyed a good night's rest. He was almost jubilant over what he looked upon as an opportunity of exonerating himself of any blame for his connection with Hoover in this whole business.

He was asked how he felt as to the outlook, and said: "Why, I'll be acquitted just as sure as fate. I will tell the whole story at my trial, and then people can judge for themselves. My fighting spirit is up now and I'll see this thing through to the end."

Scott left on the 9 o'clock Pan Handle train for Columbus, where he has been ordered to report from day to day until the time for his trial. It has been arranged, however, that he will be notified when his case is to come up, and he will not be compelled to remain in Columbus all the time.

Judge Hunter also went to Columbus primarily on another matter, but of course will look after anything pertaining to the Scott case.

RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT.

The resignation of Harry J. Hoover as president of the Newark School Board, has been in the hands of Clerk S. W. Haight for several days, and will be acted upon at the regular meeting of the Board next Monday night.

Attorney David M. Keller, one of the most prominent members of the Board, said that the resignation would undoubtedly be accepted as far as it went, but as he understood it, Hoover resigned only as president and not as a member of the Board. He was firmly of the opinion that the resignation should be general, as he thought under the circumstances Hoover's usefulness as a member of the Board was at an end.

New York Wins Railroad Case.

New York, Dec. 4.—A referee appointed by the supreme court to hear the evidence in a long pending case of the city of New York against the Manhattan railway company has decided in favor of the former. CHINAMEN

BEING SMUGGLED FROM CANADA THIS MORNING

Drowned in Canal at Buffalo—The Survivors Were Arrested and Locked in Jail.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 4.—In an alleged attempt made this morning to smuggle a party of Chinamen said to number 11 into this country from Canada, four of the Chinamen were drowned.

The Chinamen were being conveyed in a covered wagon and the outfit was on Breckenridge hill near the Grand Trunk tracks on this side of the river when the tongue of the wagon broke and the rig ran down the hill and was tipped into the canal. When the work was finished as far as possible it was found that four of the Chinamen had not been saved.

The survivors were placed under arrest and locked up at the Fifth precinct station. A rigid investigation is being conducted by the authorities.

All new schools in Switzerland have a portion of the ground floor appropriated for baths. Each class bathes about once a fortnight, summer and winter. Soap is used and a warm bath is followed by a cooler one. Sick children and those having skin diseases are excluded.

It has been suggested that in view of recent developments in home investigation all matters may be composed of a single mother substance protyle. This protyle is supposed to be manufactured by destructive processes from concrete matter in the Crookes tube.

QUICKLY MADE AND LOST ON 'CHANGE.

Some of the Wildest Scenes Ever Witnessed on the Floor of the New Orleans Exchange

New Orleans, La., Dec. 4.—Tremendous excitement prevailed in the Cotton Exchange and all cotton circles yesterday when the bureau report of the department of agriculture was made public and showed an estimated crop of 9,962,039 bales total—lower than any one had expected. The market was immediately bulled many decimal points, amid the most frantic efforts of the shorts to cover, with the cheers of the triumphant bulls ringing in their ears. For one half hour the pit was the scene of the biggest trading in the history of the Exchange. The whole financial condition of the South was shifted from one position to another. Some were made rich and others poor. Hundreds looked on the actual scene and thousands heard the wire taps that changed the destinies of many fortunes.

Partially realizing the scenes that would ensue after the reading of the bureau report, the officials of the Cotton Exchange made it "open day," and visitors were allowed on the floor.

The excitement was so intense that when the first two or three figures of the report were announced the remainder was drowned in a mighty cheer from the bulls. Pandemonium broke loose. The brokers about the ring cheered and the shout communicated itself to the rest of the crowd. Many had not heard the first reading, and when Secretary Hester hoisted a blackboard with the ominous figures the noise was increased, if possible. Over 200 ladies occupied the galleries and vantage points about the floor, and they joined in the applause according to their sympathies lay and were interested spectators throughout the hour following.

The traders who had sold short made frantic efforts to cover in the first few minutes. Some succeeded in getting under cover before the price had advanced too far, but there were few so fortunate, for in the first three minutes the figures in March options, which suffered the greatest change, advanced 31 decimal points and at the end of eight minutes the prices had advanced 59 points and March was quoted at 12 1/2 cents. Other months' prices also made tremendous jumps, January going up 3 1/2 points in five and one-fourth minutes. Eight and a quarter minutes after the report was read the market received the first check. The bears made great efforts to keep the price down, but the bull movement was irresistible, and a few moments later figures again reached the 12.50 point, with a slight downward fluctuation immediately following.

The coolest, but at the same time the happiest man in the ring throughout all the excitement was W. P. Brown, the great bull leader.

"It confirms the reports of a short crop," said Brown.

"You are wearing a broad smile today, Mr. Brown," he was commented.

"Well," said he, "I have been buying pretty heavily during the last few days. There is a strong bull market. The supply of cotton is not enough to go around. The estimate is lower than any one expected—lower than I expected. In former years the bureau has been very successful in estimating the crop. Its figures this time should be about right."

The sales were the greatest on record in the New Orleans Exchange, to about 2,000,000 bales. This represented in round numbers $120,000,000. The total rise was 91 points, or about $4.50 a bale.

Many of the traders sold out when the market reached $2.50 a bale, and what they offered was quickly taken by the bulls, who continued to send the market skyward.

W. J. BRYAN

Says the Pride and Ambition of a Country Should be Its Good Government.

London, Dec. 4.—T. P. O'Connor gave a dinner at the National Liberal club last night in honor of William Jennings Bryan, at which a number of Irish and Liberal members of the house of commons and several representatives of the English and American press were guests. There were no speeches, but Mr. Bryan, in a purely informal, but eloquent talk, referred to his experience in England, told how he had profited by his visit and how he had been impressed by the way in which the people here devoted themselves to the welfare of their country.

Mr. Bryan said the ambition and pride of the people of a country should not be in saving our army and our navy are the best in the world, but in having the best government in the world and in being able to say that "Our government stands for justice and humanity, and is so recognized in all parts of the world."

To that end Mr. Bryan said he would devote his life, and hoped to bequeath his children a legacy greater than an accumulation of wealth.

I wish my voice would reach around the world to tell of the success of Dr. Haines in curing Piles.

I had piles for 15 years and suffered a great deal. I tried most all kinds of promised cures, but continued to grow worse and became weak, lost in weight, and almost incapacitated for business. I went to Dr. Haines, he said he could cure me. I improved from the first treatment and continued to be better until well, and now I am up to my standard weight and feel like a new man. I will cheerfully answer any correspondence.

Any sufferer who will write Drs. Haines & Haines, 101 North High street, Columbus, Ohio, inclosing a 2-cent stamp and mentioning this paper, will receive by return mail free a 48-page book how to be permanently cured of piles and constipation, also how to be cured of RUPTURE in ten to twenty days. POSTOFFICE

AT CLAY LICK WAS BROKEN INTO THURSDAY NIGHT.

As at Vanatta Government Supplies
Were Not Disturbed—$100 Worth of Goods Taken.

The postoffice at Clay Lick, which is in the general store of C. M. Johnson, was burglarized sometime between the hours of 10 p. m. Thursday and 6 o'clock Friday morning. Mr. Johnson reports that the government supplies were not disturbed, but that the thieves got away with about $100 worth of merchandise consisting of jewelry, revolvers, knives, Rogers' silverware, and other articles.

The burglars had broken through a window of the store. Friday morning the men were traced the distance of a mile towards Newark, various articles stolen from the store being found along the road that distance from the town.

About 2 a. m. two men were seen on the interurban tracks near Clay Lick.
Mr. Johnson reported the burglary to the government and to the police departments of Newark and Zanesville.

A few nights ago the postoffice at Vanatta in the northern part of Licking county was broken into, but there, as at Clay Lick, only merchandise from the store conducted in connection with the postoffice was stolen.

ARCHDEACON

John R. Matthews Will Preach at Trinity Church Both Morning and Evening Sunday.

The Ven. John R. Matthews, archdeacon of Columbus convocation, will preach in Trinity church both morning and evening next Sunday. The archdeacon is an English priest, graduate of Oxford and M. A., who was chosen by the bishop of the diocese on account of his ability as a preacher and fitness in other ways, for the peculiarly difficult work of introducing and establishing the church in new places as well as building up and strengthening it wherever it may be weak or broken down. He has a wide reputation as a speaker of enlightened zeal, consecrated learning and convincing eloquence. His work in England was for several years identified with the Church Army, an organization in the Church of England, which has practically the same object as the Salvation Army, its methods not being quite the same, though they are decidedly unconventional.

For some time lately the archdeacon has been preaching missions in this country, before he was called to his present duties.

The collection on Sunday will be devoted to building a church at Barnesville O., where the archdeacon is at work very successfully at present. A lot has been donated by one of the citizens and the small congregation of general people are in need of some assistance to enable them to erect a suitable building upon it.

"While we have time, let us do good unto all men; especially to them that
